Special Abilities

	Special Abilities
Dadao Government	During the Place Units Phase, Japan may make one influence roll on a Chinese warlord adjacent to an Influencing Zone. If the roll is less than or equal to the total number of adjacent land zones Japan Controls/ Possesses, all remaining land zones and military units of that warlord Align and become/join a Japanese-controlled Axis Minor Power: Dadao Government. Note that impassable borders do not count for adjacency. Prior to rolling, Japan may spend IPP up to the amount of its original influence roll to increase the chance of success. Each IPP spent subtracts 1 from the influence roll. Regardless of how much is spent, the Influence attempt backfires on a "12" causing the warlord to Align with KMT instead. As long as controlled, the Dadao Government gets recruitment rolls, and may receive Lend-lease from Japan. It may attack Chinese land zones without the rest of China Aligning with CCP or KMT. If attacked by CCP or KMT, it does not Align with Japan. If Japan is at war with both China and a Major Power, Dadao Aligns with Japan.
Dug in Defense	Japanese infantry-class units defending in their Home Country gain +1 defense bonus.
Kamikaze 	When USA reaches Wartime Income, Japan may make up to 2 kamikaze attacks per Calendar Turn to a game total of 6. These are made at an attack of 7 vs. Surface Ships with first strike and Target Selection of "1-3". No aircraft is required or expended for these attacks. Kamikaze attacks may be made from Japanese Home Country and have a range of 4 sea zones. These sea zones are depicted with a small "Kamikaze" symbol on the map. Kamikazes may not be used in port attacks. Kamikazes may also be used when Japan is the Defender in a sea zone adjacent to Japanese Home Country or during the shore bombardment phase of an amphibious assault on Japanese Home Country.
Surprise Attack	Japan may, as a DoW, make one surprise attack on one land or sea zone (or one sea zone subsequently followed by an amphibious assault on an adjacent land zone, with "Surprise Attack" for both) the first time it declares war on an Allies' Major Power. In this zone, all Japanese aircraft gain first strike. All Enemy units receive a -1 defense on the first round of combat. Scrambling is not allowed into combat subject to a surprise attack (refer to 10.4). If the surprise attack is used on a port attack (refer to 10.6.4), the inherent facility Anti-aircraft Artillery does not get to defend. If the surprise attack is used to attack a city land zone, combat is not limited to three rounds of combat. Japanese ships and aircraft on Carriers gain +1 combat movement bonus to reach this zone. This movement bonus is cumulative with other movement bonuses. Example: A ship with a movement of 3 adjacent to a Major Port, will have a total movement of 5.
Destroyer Transports	May transport Marines on its Destroyers, one per ship. These may amphibiously assault from the Destroyer. While transporting Marines, Destroyers have -1 movement. May not continue moving after unloading.
